

HAMMERSTEIN SCORNS MISS GARDEN

Empire's Admiration for the Prima Donna Now Has Turned to Bitterness.

If all my singers had been as compatible as Mme. Tetrazzini, I should not have been obliged to retire from grand opera. Such creatures as Garden are not worth getting gray-haired about.

—Oscar Hammerstein's present opinion of his former star.

RULES FOR A UNION OF MARRIED WOMEN

"The one big rule, that covers all cases, is, think, is, do the best you can and be cheerful."

"I believe every one ought to begin the day pleasantly by being courteous and bright at breakfast. No matter if it is an effort for a man to be cheerful at breakfast, I think he should make that effort for the way it starts the entire day. On the other hand I believe it is just as much the duty of the wife to come to the breakfast table with a sweet and pleasant expression.

ALLEGED MILLION LOSS IN SWINDLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Commenting on the arrest by postoffice inspectors of John W. Knight, senior member of the cotton brokerage firm of Knight, Yancey & Co., Dothan, Ala., Postmaster-General Hitchcock says that the operations of this concern through the alleged fraudulent use of the mails would doubtless exceed a million dollars.

The alleged fraud was committed, he says, by the use of bogus bills of lading.

These genuine insurance certificates were accepted as indicating the honesty of the shipments and the bills of lading thus accompanied were negotiated by note brokers, who procured payment from the foreign importers in advance of delivery. It is chiefly against these foreign buyers of cotton that the fraud is alleged to have been committed. The cotton purchased, Mr. Hitchcock says, never arrived.

COAST FIGHT GAME IN NEED OF NURSING

By ED. W. SMITH.

That the boxing game on the Pacific coast is still a precarious ramble and will need many of turns is the opinion of Tom Oates at that city, who is in the East with Jack Tamm, one of the promoters of the Jack Tamm battle.

Oates says:

That Tamm and a, moving and almost up to the limit of the coast. The local crowd at the arena was not very large and the crowd was so small that the after fight was up to the matches in it.

ing him the picture was "hooked" flat and left, it's hard to tell. We will not set right on this line, street, and whether there will be profit enough to justify the enormous risk I cannot tell at this time.

"While I haven't been in San Francisco in some time I know the exact situation and the fact that they are not pursuing the game along if they should be putting on the Nelson Moran contest. It is not a sure thing, but I think it is a with something a little more something that will not attract too much attention from the public.

There has been a little bit of there being a second in this case, but I am never sure, and if there is a second, it is likely to be followed by a great roar.

You know they intend to box twenty rounds right in the city. This battle is a near championship affair, as the man who wins will be the champion.

at Wolcott for the title. It is a mistake, too, to box Moran there after his unfortunate experience with McCarthy, who died after a bout with the Englishman. I sincerely hope everything will go along all right, as the boxing game is a big help to the city."

Speaking of the Wolcott-Nelson battle, Iken recalls a story of how Jack Athol, the surferman overheard a remark made by Waagast just after the men got into the ring and pointed by it to the extent of $500 to $1,500.
